Release Dynamix

The Enterprise Agile Delivery Solution

Release Dynamix [RDx] is the enterprise approach to quickly and safely deliver application changes. An intelligent continuous delivery tool that provides real-time insights into pipeline risk and quality, and automatically generates corrective actions, RDx lets you quickly and safely release into production. We call this new approach Enterprise Agile Delivery.

See, Sync and Factor

With Release Dynamix, see everything, with visibility into the entire delivery tool chain with real-time monitoring and reporting. The collaborative platform helps you sync everyone across business, testing, development and delivery teams with connected activities and workflows that focus on the same objective. And unique to RDx, you can factor in real-time insights and gain multidimensional views into impact and risk for data-based decision making.

Deliver Business Value Faster | Manage changing priorities and keep enterprise applications relevant in shorter release cycles to meet the continuously evolving needs of the business.

Designed for Enterprise IT | Work in your mode with support for hybrid frameworks such as Water "Agile" fall, Kanban, SAFe.

See Everything | Be in the know with visibility into the entire delivery tool chain with real-time monitoring and reporting.

Sync Everyone | Bring together business, testing, development and delivery teams on a collaborative platform with connected activities and workflows that focus on the same objective.

Be Proactive | Factor in real-time insights and gain multidimensional views into impact and risk for databased decision making to know you are ready for go-live (to ensure production-ready code).

Ease of Use | Quick onboarding for both business and tech users so you gain the most value for your SaaS solution investment.
